

Author Writes Star a Letter

As we go to press this Election Eve the hands in the presidential poker game look like this: Dewey, four aces; Thurmond, a color flush; Truman, a pair of kings (including Barkley); and Wallace—a busted straight.

Here's a letter from Raymond W. Thorp, author of "Bowie Knife", written October 28 from his home at 3513 Pomona street, Los Angeles 31, Calif.:

"Dear sir: I have received from the University of New Mexico Press (Albuquerque, N. M.) your fine letter and a copy of The Star (October 19) with the review you gave to 'Bowie Knife.' I would much rather have these comments from you right in the heart of the bowie-knife country, than from all the metropolitan dailies of the East.

"Too long have the so-called self-appointed experts befouled the pages of the great encyclopedias with their guesses and canards. You and I and thousands of Americans know all the time where and by whom the bowie knife was originated, but I understand to bring all the fractions together so that we could tell the world about it. It was an American institution that gained a world-wide reputation in its days far above that enjoyed by the atomic bomb now. To have you, as a historian in your own right, acknowledge these facts is a great satisfaction to me.

"Although I am unable in the foreseeable future to accept your cordial invitation for a Hope visit (and interview) I wish to thank you for it. I hope, too, that you will transmit my felicitations to the people of the great state of Arkansas, which was a monumental way station for the pioneers to Texas—your section served Texas as did Independence the Rocky Mountain country yours.

Dewey Must 'Reform' Congress To Get His Promised Program
By JAMES THRASHER

In his full-throated rally speech at Pittsburgh, Governor Dewey presented a list of objectives with the preface: "These are some of the things we are determined to achieve."

Among them were a higher minimum wage, extended social security with larger benefits, and end to the housing log jam, and "decent" houses at "reasonable costs," and prices that "do not steal food and clothing . . . from American families."

Mr. Dewey's "we" obviously referred to a new administration in event of a GOP victory. It had to include a Republican Congress, since all the above objectives are matters for legislation. Thus the "we" really implied that Mr. Dewey was stating a Republican national policy.

Position and tradition allow Mr. Dewey or any other presidential candidate to make such statements. The New York governor is the titular head of his party. And in the surreal atmosphere of a presidential campaign, it is easy for voters to persuade themselves that the head of the ticket speaks for a united party.

Actually the situation is considerably different. The Republicans may look united in comparison to the Democrats, with their defections to the right and left this year. But there was a GOP group in the 80th Congress to whom these objectives are an anathema.

Chiang, Defense Crumbling, to Continue Fight

Nanking, Nov. 1 —(AP)—President Chiang Kai-shek, his Manchurian armies crumbling and Mukden lost, told the Kuomintang central political committee today that China "must accept the lessons of defeating by Communists and fight on."

There was no hint of surrender from the weary Chinese leader, whose government has been shaken to its foundation by the wholesale defections of his troops in the last three weeks.

In his first official appearance since his return from two weeks in the north where the cream of his armies were destroyed or went over to the Reds, Chiang declared: "We have had reverses in the Northeast (Manchuria), but the Communists are not yet in a position to directly menace North China."

American authorities meanwhile instructed U. S. citizens to prepare to leave North China.

Authoritative sources here said the Communists had occupied Mukden completely at 3 p. m. (a. a. m. CST) and that the last government officials fled from there three days ago. The government had no radio contact with Mukden since 6 p. m. Sunday (a. a. m. CST) but the American consulate radio there is still functioning and in communication with

U. S. Searching for Solution in Middle East

Washington, Nov. 1 —(UP)—Diplomatic officials were searching desperately today for some way to prevent the explosion of a "time bomb" in the strategic Middle East.

The "bomb" was made up of Arab refugees from the fighting in Palestine. With winter coming on, reports to the State Department have warned that a large percentage of these refugees will die of starvation unless America aid is provided immediately.

Officials fear that mass starvation would set off a strong wave of anti-American feeling among the Arabs, and give Communist agents their biggest break in the Middle West since the "cold war" began.

The Arab nations to which the refugees fled do not have the necessary funds to take care of them, officials said. The Arab world still blames the United States, in part, for the present situation. The ground that this country played the chief role in establishing the new state of Israel.

Officials said the Arabs look to the United States to back up its claim of "humanitarianism" by seeing to it that the refugees do not perish this winter.

The big hitch is that this government does not have a single penny to spend for Arab refugees relief. At the State Department's request, government legal experts have searched in vain for authority to spend funds for that purpose without specific congressional approval.

By the time the next Congress meets it may be too late to save the thousands of Arabs who face death this winter, authorities said. Congress eventually will be asked to provide a long-range relief program for the Arab refugees.

Grid Coaches, Squad Guests of Lions Club

Members of the Bobcat football squad, Coaches Tollett, Martin and Hopkins and Superintendent James H. Jones, were guests of the Lions Club at its regular noon luncheon today.

Coach Tollett introduced the boys individually and attributed their past performance to the ability of every boy to fill in capably wherever he is placed. Captain Sam Westbrook made a short talk.

Coach Tollett told the boys the fans generally believed their condition, and unity were the two main factors in their success so far. He warned them about publicity. The little Rock papers would dish out this week and said it was aimed at "helping the Little Rock Tigers" and not the Bobcats. He told the boys that win, lose or draw the City of Hope is behind them a hundred per cent.

Will Butler, Negro operator of Butler's Barbecue, told police today that he was held up and robbed of $165 in cash about 1 a. m., November 1, at his stand at Hazel St. and 4th streets.

He said that two negro men entered his place and wanted to buy a package of cigarettes. When he went to get them one pulled a gun, told him to put up his hands and the other got his money.

City police are investigating.

Boy Scout Drive to Start Nov. 9

At a joint meeting of the Hempstead District Board and Finance Committee, Boy Scouts of America, it was decided by the group that the annual Finance Campaign would start Tuesday, November 9.

Royce Weisenberger was chosen by the committee to serve as general Finance Chairman.

The Council tentative budget for 1949 is $23,215 and it is hoped that this amount can be raised by Nov. 30. The annual council meeting will be held Dec. 1 at which time the 1949 budget will be adopted. The 1949 budget provides for an additional Field Executive, which will give the local Field Executive more time in the Hempstead District.

Hempstead District has had an exceptionally good year in scouting this year reaching more than 500 individuals.

When M. Weisenberger or his committee calls upon you, we urge you to contribute as much as you can to the drive. The National average cost per boy per year is $12 and we hope to contribute to the council on that basis. Clifford Franks, Chairman, Hempstead District Boy Scouts of America.

Negro Farm Winners Are Awarded

The Live-At-Home Banquet was well attended by farmers, their wives, and Agricultural workers of the county Friday night at Yeager High School.

Professor Brown, the speaker, talked on the need for the farmers of today to do a better job than their forefathers did. In doing so, he pointed out how his father depleted his soil, destroyed the natural resources which were helpful in retaining the fertility of the farm land.

"You farmers have a great responsibility on your shoulders. If agriculture will continue to be carried on at a high level tomorrow for your youth, you must follow these practices that tend to build our soil year after year; protect our forest land and retain our land depicting sources of income."

The winners of this year's Live-At-Home contest were announced. In the Landowners' division for the second time in the county, Dave and Lurenda Evans of Emmett were declared first place winners. George and Minnie Richardson of Iron Springs, second place; Jake and Sarah Henson of Greenhill, third, and in the Tenant division, Correll Wilkerson of Antioch, first; Jethro and Hazel White of St. Luke, second; and Will and Ella Mae Muldrow, Rt. 3, Hope, third place.

The above winners received cash awards of twenty, ten and five dollars respectively.

Through the Chamber of Commerce many prizes of merchandise were given to all winners present at this Banquet. Among the prizes given were: Cox's Drug Store, Stewart's Jewelry, Hobb's Grocery, Turner's Grocery, Foster's Shoe Store, Owen's Dept. Store, Senger and Kithia Theaters, A. & P. Food Stores, L. & W. Music and Appliances Co., Lewis' Grocery and Market, Butler's Barberec House, Yeager Barber Shop, Hicks' Cleaners, Third Street Confectionery, Cook's Automobile, A. & P. Food Stores.

Arkansas to Decide Several Key Issues

Little Rock, Nov. 1 —(AP)—Arkansas are expected to vote in unusually large numbers in tomorrow's general election.

Political leaders have guessed that as many as 275,000 of the state's 463,411 eligible voters will mark ballots.

Even that "outside" guess would be well under the total of nearly 304,000 votes cast in Democratic runoff primary in August.

But in Arkansas officers generally are selected in Democratic primaries and general elections are mere formalities.

Why, then, is a heavy vote forecast for tomorrow?

Tomorrow's election is more than just a routine affair.

U.S. to Vote on President Tomorrow

By The Associated Press
Harry S. Truman and Thomas Edmund Dewey came to the fork in the presidential trail today. Tomorrow the people will beckon one of them on.

The Democrat who holds the White House lease and the Republican who holds high hope of breaking it planned only the customary get out and vote, appeal for tonight's winding to a long and exhausting campaign.

Depending on how those pleas are heeded—and the weather—upwards of 50,000,000 citizens will visit the polls. They will decide among other things which party will control the next Congress—and especially the Senate.

But for all the oratory, energy and dollars expended in trying to sway the world's greatest court of public opinion, only time can tell whether the winner and his party will relish victory through each of the next four years.

The cold war in Europe and the hot war in China underscored the unfinished task of the peace makers. At home high prices leave unanswered whether the current boom will turn into a bust.

For Dewey it is a second try—and the first time the Republican party has left its banner in the hands of a defeated candidate. The New York governor lost a 3-596,000 popular vote decision to "the champ" in 1944. But Franklin Delano Roosevelt's fourth victory in the electoral college was a whopping 432 to 99.

For Truman it is an uphill race to win nishiviching teteteeh to win in his own right the mantle that fell upon him as he put it— "with the whole weight of the moon and stars and all the planets" when Roosevelt died April 12, 1945. Even the heights of popularity in 46 months that followed, Truman had to put down rebellion in his own party last summer. He did not completely win the battle. But the president stoutly disputes the poll takers who show Dewey far in the lead. Even without the votes he will lose in the South to States' Rights Democrats, J. Strom Thurmond and others, he will win the White House.

Truman went to his Pawling, N. Y., farm to rest until he returns to New York late today to vote and await the outcome.

Dewey then went to his Pawling, N. Y., farm to rest until he returns to New York late today to vote and await the outcome.

Congressional Seats Also Anxiously Eyed

Washington, Nov. 1 —(AP)—Competing with the presidency for interest in tomorrow's nationwide balloting are elections for 432 House and 32 Senate seats as well as 32 governorships.

If either party comes out on top all around it will have established a strong beachhead for the political wars of 1950 and 1952.

The prize plum aside from the presidency itself is control of the 81st Congress which convenes next January 3. This is the Congress that will start writing the record on which voters and Congressmen signal candidates will run again in 1950. That record inevitably will be a major issue in the presidential campaign in 1952.

And the political complexion of state houses throughout the land largely will determine which candidates in future elections are to get the prized support of entrenched state political organizations.

The Republicans are buoyantly confident of retaining control of the House and hardly less so of breaking in their favor the present 24-24 governorship tie. The Democrats dispute both these claims, but their own predictions have to do with the Senate.

The party that controls the Senate also controls the committees that steer legislation into the chamber. That party, too, controls much of the prize patronage of the White House, for all the major appointments must be confirmed by the Senate.

There are 33 Senate seats being filled this year. But that number includes one race already won by the Republican, the Maine Sept. 22 election.

Geo. Newbern Misses for $24,000 Prize

One-in-a-million Saturday night was Geo. Newbern, Jr., 401 East 14th street, Rice-Stix salesman, for he got a call from Columbia Broadcasting company, New York, on the CBS "Sing It Again" program.

Newbern said he was digging a ditch on his property about 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon when the telephone rang. It was CBS, New York, asking him if he was listening to KWKH, Shreveport, Mr. Newbern said. CBS then told him to tune in between 7 and 8 p. m. for a prize contest.

The Hope man didn't know the program, but called George Frazier, program director of KWKH, Mutual, Hope, for information. Mr. Frazier defined it as a mystery quiz for which no special preparation was possible.

Nevertheless, Mr. Newbern assembled a "brain trust" of friends, cleared the long distance phone, and sat down to wait—tuned in on WWL, New Orleans, another CBS station.

He was the last of 12 contestants to be called, the nearest others being in Abilene, Abilene, Texas, and Lake Charles, La. Mr. Newbern got one answer correct, winning for Mrs. Newbern six pairs of hand-made gloves with handbags to match.

But on the jackpot question—worth $24,000—he missed!

An Analysis of Initiated Act No. 2

by A Distinguished Editor

A thoughtful interpretation of Initiated Act No. 2 by C. F. Byrns, distinguished editor of the Fort Smith SOUTHWEST-AMERICAN and one of Arkansas' leading citizens. Substantiated in its legal aspects by Robert A. Leflar, Dean of the University of Arkansas Law School, we respectfully submit this authoritative article in the hope that it will dispel many misrepresentations about the act now being broadly circulated. Here is ample reason to support Act 2.

OFF THE RECORD

by C. F. BYRNS
OCTOBER 22, 1948

A SIMPLE proposal to change local option elections from special to general elections has stirred up an astounding opposition by the Anti-Saloon League of Arkansas.

Present law requires a special election to pass on the question of selling liquor, beer and wine in any county, city, township, ward, or precinct, when proper petitions are filed. Initiated Act No. 2, on the ballot at the general election Nov. 2, would simply require that local option elections shall be held on the regular general election date, which is always the second Tuesday in November of even-numbered years.

Act No. 2 is just as simple as that. Yet the Anti-Saloon League of Arkansas, in an advertisement in these newspapers on Wednesday, charges that "it would completely destroy our present local option law."

There is no basis whatever for this astonishing statement, in my judgment. Act No. 2 does not in any way change the local option law except as to the time of holding the election. If it is adopted, it will still be possible under exactly the same authority, to bring about an election once in two years, as it now is, on the question of selling or prohibiting sale of liquor, wine and beer in any political subdivision of the state. The same petition is required. The only change is that the election would have to be held on the general election date, when people are voting on other issues besides local option, and a vote would be had more truly representative of a cross-section of the population. Combining the elections would save the county the cost of a special election.

I do not favor prohibition as a method of handling the liquor business. I opposed prohibition when the question was submitted to the people of the Fort Smith district in 1946, because I do not think it is the wisest way to handle the problem. I do believe the people of any community have the right to decide for themselves whether they want liquor sold in their communities. I think, however, the decision should be made by as many people as can be brought to the polls, so the decision will truly represent the popular will. I think this act will tend to produce that sort of decision. I know it will save the cost of a special election wherever the matter is submitted to a vote.

All the amendments and acts on the ballot have been analyzed in this column and a position stated upon each of them. All of them have likewise been analyzed by Dr. Robert Leflar, dean of the School of Law at the University, without any expression of his own opinion about them. He always performs that public service in advance of a general election. Dr. Leflar's conclusion about the effect of this act is exactly the same as my own. Here is what Dr. Leflar says about its effect:

"Act No. 2 is one of the shorter and simpler measures to be voted on this November. It would do one thing: provide that local option (liquor) elections be held only at the regular general elections in November in even-numbered years, rather than at special elections called at any time.

"This would be the law both as to dry areas seeking to vote wet and to wet areas seeking to vote dry. There would be no change in the present law (initiated Act No. 1 of 1942) under which local option elections may be held in any county, township, municipality, ward or precinct in which a proper petition is filed.

"The number of signatures necessary on a local option petition, wet or dry, would remain the same as now, that is 15 per cent of the qualified electors in the area affected. Other aspects of the present law would likewise remain unchanged.

"In other words, the total effect of the proposed act would be that local option elections, either in wet or dry areas, could not be held oftener than once in two years (the present law) and the date would be fixed by law instead of by the county judge."

That is clear and conclusive. The Anti-Saloon League is simply mistaken in its charge that the act would destroy the local option law.

Chicago, Nov. 1.—(AP)—Corn overcame the weight of heavy cash arrivals to move upward on the Board of Trade today. A good demand developed for the outpouring of cash grain and prices ruled steady in the spot market. That encouraged buying of futures.

Soybeans, oats, rye and hard wheat also tended upward most of the day. Only in soybeans did the gains amount to much. Commission house buying sent beans up a couple of cents. Wheat was inclined to lag, being depressed by receipts of good moisture in the winter wheat belt.

Control North Sector

Tel Aviv, Israel, Nov. 1.—(AP)—Israeli troops were in full control of Northern Palestine today. United Nations observers said they had crossed the border into Lebanon.

The Jews said a smashing two-day offensive had cleared all Arab forces from the Galilee area, driving the remnants of the Arab "liberation army" of Fawzi Pasha Al Kaukiy across the Lebanese border.

(In Beirut, Lebanon, the government press bureau officially declared the U. N. observers' statements untrue and denied the Jews had entered Lebanese territory.)

For the first time in recent weeks, an Israeli spokesman reported last night "all is quiet on all fronts."

An Israeli announcement of the Galilee victory was made at the same time the government notified U. N. troops headquarters in Haifa it had ordered Jewish soldiers on the northern front to cease firing at 3 a. m. Eastern Standard Time, yesterday, 20 hours after the cease-fire deadline ordered by the U. N.

Lebanon, which had accepted the original cease-fire, but later was reported to have reopened fire in defensive action, was requested to abide by the same cease-fire time the Israelis had ordered.

U. N. observers in the North said the Jewish units "now are inside Lebanese territory."

The Jews were said to be moving toward Beirut, two and a half miles beyond the border.

Here's Lineup on Party Control

New Mexico — Democrat Clinton P. Anderson and Republican Patrick J. Hurley, both former cabinet members, war the seat now held by Sen. Carl A. Hatch, who is retiring to take a judgeship.

Oklahoma — Robert S. Kerr, wealthy former Democratic governor, opposes Ross Rile, a Republican congressman for eight years.

Tennessee — Estes Kefauver, Democratic congressman for 10 years and giant-killing victor this year over the Crump machine of

Under The One - Party System

YOU HAVE NO CHOICE
At The Polls in Arkansas

Arkansas believes in the Four Freedoms. Yet the Fifth Freedom, the freedom of Choice at the polls, is the most precious of all. It is the one protection of all other rights. But in Arkansas you have no choice under the One-Party System.

If your mind is committed to accept only one political party, simply because it has been the custom for years, you are not exercising your privilege as an American, the privilege of making a choice at the polls.

with blanket commitment by voters in Arkansas to support a single political party, even though its platform and candidates do not reflect their wishes, you are inclined to believe it would do no good to vote otherwise, that you would be in the minority, and your vote lost. . . But, you can have a choice at the polls —

The Two-Party System Makes for Better Government

The competition for a voter's preference offered by a Two-Party System is the strongest, most effective force working for good government. Its threats act as a check and a discipline on office holder and political party alike. The possibility of reward or penalty provides an incentive for efficiency, honesty and economy in government.

Competition for the voters' preference brings forth each party's most capable men as candidates. An effective, competitive Two-Party System would benefit the people of Arkansas, whichever party was in power.

The Two-Party System Would Place Arkansas In a Commanding Position

As long as the Arkansas vote is package-delivered under the One-Party tradition, little concern can be expected as to Arkansas' possible political reactions when favors or concessions are up for consideration by those in power in the federal government. Remove Arkansas from the "automatic roll call of the Solid South" and Arkansas will automatically reach full stature as a dominant political factor.

Regardless of your party affiliations, it is your duty and your privilege to help establish a Two-Party System to gain for yourself and all Arkansans the right of choice at the polls, its vigorous protection, and its vast benefits.

Arkansans! The Time Is At Hand! Rally To The Cause!

The Republican ticket (Dewel-Warren) is a long odds favorite to win the election. It is the opportunity for Arkansas to win doubly — to gain benefits and recognition for Arkansas from an administration that has come to be aware of Arkansas' contribution and importance to our national life and economy — and to win for Arkansas the advantages of a Two-Party System and freedom of choice at the polls.

VOTERS! — You CAN vote a "split ticket" and still maintain your party status up to the vice president — California's Gov. Earl Warren if Dewey wins, or Kentucky's Sen. Albert B. Barkley if Truman retains the White House.

In addition, 432 House seats, 32 governorships, hundreds of state and local offices and scores of referenda issues will be settled.

Republican Maine elected a senator, governor and three House members in September.

In many respects the presidential race has been one of sharp contrasts. Truman's St. Louis speech Saturday was his 27th in a "give 'em hell" campaign.

Dewey delivered exactly 101 fewer talks, most of them keyed to the theme of "peace and unity."

Back and forth across the country, Dewey tore into what he called the confusion and despair of the Truman administration. He said it had blundered at home and fumbled abroad.

Truman jabbed alternately at Dewey as a "me too" candidate and as out to do a "hatch job" on the Roosevelt New Deal.

But the president's bitterest words were directed against the Republican-dominated 80th Congress. "Do nothing," "good for nothing" and "idiot" were some of the things he called it.

The last big guns of the campaign were fired yesterday by two members of the Congress: Sen. Robert A. Taft, Republican of Ohio, and Rep. Charles McNichols, Democrat of Michigan.

11 Romanians Plead Guilty to 'Plotting'

Bucharest, Romania, Nov. 1.—Eleven Romanians pleaded guilty yesterday to charges of plotting with American and British representatives to overthrow the Romanian government.

The defendants threw themselves on the mercy of the court. A verdict will be handed down Tuesday. Conviction of high treason, with which they are charged, carried an automatic penalty of life imprisonment at hard labor.

A twelfth defendant, Max Ausnit, a Romanian industrialist now in New York, is being tried in absentia.

One defendant, Dr. George Bonita, said "I plead guilty, but I have been encouraged by Anglo-American imperialistic circles."

The defense sought to place most of the blame on U. S. and British diplomats allegedly encouraging the accused men.

At night a big vote for him would doom this country's peacetime draft and give the world hope of peace and not the murder of mankind in unbelievable atomic catastrophe.

DOROTHY DIX Ready-Made Family

Dear Miss Dix: Two years ago we died and left me with five children to rear. Thinking to see a home for them, I married a widow with one child. He is a 14, is badly spoiled and his children and me with her boy and upholds him in anything he does. She is constantly picking on my children and bears my heart to shreds.

What can I do except to reflect what a fool I have been?

UNHAPPY MAN

Wise old Doctor Johnson said that a second marriage is the final triumph of hope over experience, and this goes double for widows and widowers with children. Every one of them has been scores of men and women in bunches of little olive women who remained after their husbands or wife died, and they sit the trouble and suffering that usually every one of these marriages brought on the men and women themselves and their unfortunate children. Yet these AWFUL WRITINGS do not keep a single one of them from risking their lives and their children's well-being by marrying again.

Risky Business

few marriages is a risky business. It matters when, how and why you marry. But when you throw in a ready-made family, you make it such a risky proposition that nothing but a special act of Providence can save it from disaster.

If course, now and then a miracle is wrought and a widow gets a second husband who is wise and kind and just to her children; and a widower may be lucky enough to find a woman who has a big enough mother-heart to take in his children and treat them as if they were her own. But this rarely happens. And it virtually never happens when the widow has children of her own. It takes a superwoman to deal fairly between her children and her husband's children.

And there is no misery on earth worse than that of the woman and man who stand by helplessly and see their children mistreated and neglected, and who are even afraid to show them any affection themselves, and there is no choice between that of the man and woman who must choose between their mates and their children.

Dear Miss Dix: My husband insists on buying and arranging everything in the home to suit his own whims, and I like it or not, I think he should recognize that it is the wife's privilege to express her own individuality in the home. What do you think about it?

A WIFE

Answer: I think the best thing for you to do is to talk the matter over with your husband and go 50-50 in selecting the furnishings of your home.

Most women feel that they have a right to monopolize the home taste, but the husband of a wife who insists on doing so, should at least have a few rooms that he can fix up according to his notions of comfort.

But, for goodness sake, quit quarreling over the matter.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I have been married to a man for four years and cannot help but feel that I am greatly superior to him in every way. He is good, kind, selfless and honest; but he comes from the other side of the tracks and I have come to the point where I can just tolerate him. He seems to sense my feelings toward him and has become restless and dissatisfied. Is there any help for us?

Answer: What made you marry him if you felt that he was not your class? Are you perfectly sure that you are so superior to him? A lot of people who haven't any blue blood have mighty good, rich, red blood and have amounted to something in the world.

My advice to you is to climb down of your high horse. Quit being superior and be a good enough sport to make the best of your marriage.

German Industrial Production Hits High in U. S. Zone

Berlin, Nov. 1.—(UP)—The American military governor for Germany reported today that industrial production in the combined American-British zones of Germany had established a new post-war record.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay said in his semi-monthly report to Washington the output in September was 70 per cent of the 1938 level. Production in August was 64 per cent.

Clay reported that production in four industrial groups—gas and electricity, electrical equipment, mining excluding coal and rubber—equalled or surpassed the 1938 level.

In the years between 1940 and 1950, more than 200,000 immigrants annually entered New York harbor.

Republicans now control the Senate by a 51-45 margin, which means the Democrats need a net gain of four seats for control.

Of the 63 seats at stake, Republicans have 33 and Democrats have 30. Of the 33 being filled this year, 18 now are Republican and 15 Democratic. But 11 of the Democratic seats on the block are in the normally Democratic South.

These 11 are generally regarded as the key states which will decide the issue of control: Kentucky, Minnesota, Oklahoma, West Virginia, Wyoming, Montana, New Mexico, Tennessee, Iowa, Illinois and Colorado. The seats at stake are held now by Republicans in all except Montana, New Mexico, Tennessee and Colorado.

There are 95 candidates for the 32 seats involved in tomorrow's voting: 23 Republicans, 22 Democrats, 11 Progressives, 3 Socialist-Labor, 3 Independents, and 1 Industrial Government.

Contending for the 432 House seats (Minority elected three Republicans in September) are 271 Democrats, 418 Democrats and 173 minor party candidates.

The entire House membership is elected this year, as it is every two years. Republicans are now in control with 246 seats against 187 for the Democrats and two for the American Labor Party.

The Democrats lost control in 1946 for the first time since Franklin D. Roosevelt became president.

The even political division in governorships is almost certain to be broken. Eighteen of the 32 governorships to be filled now are held by Republicans, 14 by Democrats.

Some of the most influential statehouses are involved. There are hot contests in Indiana, Ohio, Illinois, Michigan, Washington, Montana, and Tennessee.

esting and important test of strength. It will, in effect, disclose whether Mr. Dewey is going to be another Franklin D. Roosevelt in his relations with Congress.

Mr. Roosevelt for some time was expected to carry out his party's right-wingers to go down the line for his New Deal. This was due to his popularity and persuasiveness, and to the depression emergency, and to a party desire to remain in the right of passage of political power.

After many years outside of the White House, Mr. Dewey, as president, would probably have to depend on the first two and last of those factors or else run the risk of being bottled up in a committee of incoherents.

American authorities here and in Shanghai.

The Chinese Navy, backed by the six-inch guns of its former British Cruiser, Chungking, is guarding the ports of Yingkiang and Huhai as possible escape routes for whatever national troops managed to get out of Huhai.

Chiang praised both the bravery and skill of his north China commander, Gen. Fu Tso-Yi at Peiping. He said Fu "has made ample preparations and been sufficiently reinforced" to handle Red threats to that area.

The president insisted the "overall war situation does not give cause for worry."

Meanwhile American authorities in China ordered all Americans in North China to get ready to evacuate their homes for fear the civil war would develop there. The British took similar action last week.

The U. S. Navy may be asked to send a ship to Gaku, Bar, 30 miles off Tientsin, to pick up those of the estimated 900 Americans in Peiping and Tientsin who were unable to arrange commercial transportation from those points.

Late advices from Mukden said 10 American consulate employees and three dependents were still in the city. Among them was Miss Mary Braden of Dysart, Ia., consulate employee previously reported evacuated.

Of the 300 engagements of the American Revolution, nearly a third of the battles were fought on New York soil.

Displaced Poles to Try Again in Arkansas

West Memphis, Nov. 1 — (AP) — The first of two displaced Polish families, who hope to carve out a new life for themselves on an Arkansas plantation, were scheduled to arrive tonight.

Brownslaw Baginski, 27, his wife and their four children will be met at their train in Memphis by Mr. and Mrs. Milton Baumann, who applied for displaced persons' status through the Catholic bishops' resettlement program.

Tomorrow morning, the Baumans also will greet Antoni Opilka, 45, his wife and seven children.

Temporarily, one of the families will be housed in a garage apartment on the Baumann plantation near here. The others will share the Baumann home.

The Baginskis and the Opilkas were among 813 displaced persons who arrived in New York Saturday, to take up residence in this country.

East to Get Rain

Washington, Nov. 1 — (AP) — Many voters in the East may get wet on their way to the polls tomorrow. Elsewhere the weather outlook is generally fair.

This is the way the weather bureau sees it.

The outlook is for fair weather over the greater portion of the country on election day. However, some rain is expected over the more populous states in the eastern half of the country.

Russia Moves More German Factories

Berlin, Oct. 30 — (AP) — The Russians have started a new wave of factory removals in Eastern Germany which indicates they may be preparing withdrawal of their occupation forces, American intelligence sources said today.

These sources said the Russians were not only dismantling factories owned by Germans but also plants to which the Soviets themselves held title.

This indicated, they said, that the Russians might be preparing to pull stakes from Germany. This would fit the Soviet declaration announced at the Warsaw conference of Eastern European foreign ministers several months ago that all four occupying forces should evacuate.

The American-licensed News Agency Dena reported the Russians had handed Communists in Eastern Germany a list of 205 factories to be dismantled by June 1, 1949.

Dena said the "secret list" included 162 plants to which the Russians already held title.

The agency said the Russian intention to remove these factories within eight months was supported by "informed quarters" which added that this was "proof that Russians intend to withdraw their occupation forces by the middle of the coming year."

American quarters said they knew that a "new dismantling program" was underway in the Russian occupation zone.

An American intelligence official said: "We know the Russians are now busy dismantling some of these Soviet plants. It probably means they are removing what they call their property, preparing to pulling out of Germany and last."

Mrs. Roosevelt Calls for Support of Truman

New York, Nov. 1 — (AP) — heavy "mandate" vote for President Truman and the rest of the Democratic ticket is urged by Eleanor Roosevelt.

"I still believe in the Democratic party and its leadership," the president's widow said by teletype from Paris last night in a Democratic campaign broadcast (ABC).

Mrs. Roosevelt said President Truman "has made his real choice, x x x He has shown of age, but he needs the people's mandate to help him if he is to be our president."

Fifth Armored Division Gets Another Streamer

Fort Smith, Nov. 1 — (AP) — The Fifth Armored Division will receive six battle streamers flying in its standard when the unit is reactivated at Camp Chaffee Nov. 1, 1949.

A sixth streamer has been awarded to the division for its campaign during World War II.

The five other streamers are for the Normandy, Northern France, Ardennes, Rhineland and Central Europe engagements during the last war.

Deactivated after the war, the division was ordered into service this year and assigned to Camp Chaffee. The unit was activated Oct. 1, 1941, and went overseas in 1944.

putting the Western powers on edge, also to withdraw.

"Whether they intend to carry out by June 1, is anybody's guess, however. By that time they may come up with still another dismantling list. Yet this one may be the last."

Baugh Sets New Record Through Air

New York, Nov. 1 — (AP) — Berlin has its airlift but the National Football League still has the air arm—Sammy Baugh.

Baugh, the air general of the Washington Redskins, has added another passing record to his collection that includes four lifetime marks.

The veteran quarterback gained 446 yards through the air yesterday as he pitched the Redskins to a 59-21 victory over the Boston Yanks.

Baugh completed 17 of 24 attempts and buried four touchdown passes in surpassing the former mark of 433 yards, in a single game set by Sid Luckman of the Chicago Bears on Nov. 14, 1943, against the New York Giants.

The field day enabled Baugh to increase his record lifetime totals in attempts to 2,214; completions to 1,275 yards gained by passing to 16,397 and touchdown passes to 136.

By winning, the Washington team stayed a half game behind the Eastern division pace-setting Philadelphia Eagles. The Eagles crushed the Pittsburgh Steelers, 34-7.

Meanwhile, the Chicago Bears and the defending champion Chicago Cardinals remained tied for the Western division lead. The Bears breezed to a 35-14 victory over the Giants and the Cards turned back the Rams, 27-22, in Los Angeles. In the other National League game, the Detroit Lions upset the Green Bay Packers, 24-20. It was the Lions' first victory in six starts.

Three games were played in the All-America Conference. In the "big" game the Buffalo Bills downed the Baltimore Colts, 35-17.

Activities in the Grade Schools

If you'd like to see a circus, visit the first grade of Garland School where you will find a circus tent made of pasteboard boxes and brown craft paper. The children made some of their animals of colored construction paper and other animals and clowns of white construction paper and then colored them.

An interesting reading chart accompanied this piece of creative work entitled "Our Circus" with animals pasted near the top made by the children.

This class also won $1.50 for getting the most rummage for their sale.

A play entitled "To Soap or Not To Soap" which stressed that it is better to get together and have a good time on Halloween rather than being destructive was given by Mrs. Ward's class for one-half of the pupils in Garland School and Mrs. Ozmer's class gave it for the other half of the students.

The third grade in Brookwood to tie the Colts for first place in the Eastern division. The Los Angeles Dons blanked the Brooklyn Dodgers, 17-0, and the New York Yankees trounced the Chicago Rockets, 42-7, in the other games.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

"Farming" Versus "Ranching"

Talked to some editors who run my column in their papers—in states where there's mostly cattle and sheep raising—about the differences there might be between farming and ranching.

And they told me: "Joe, there's no real difference between cattle-men and farmers. We make our living from the land like your folks do; we have the same 4-H Clubs and Granges; the same problems of prices and marketing.

"When it comes to recreation, we have the same liking to get together now and then for a barbecue and a friendly glass of beer."

And from where I sit, that about sums it up. Ranchers may have different names for things or grow different crops. But all over America folks who work the land share those common traits of hard work, sober moderation, and good fellowship, whether they're growing cattle for beef, or barley for good American beer and ale.
